

Tim Randolph
Coaching for Life

Biographical Sketch of Tim Randolph

Tim currently serves as the Director of the Waco Regional Baptist Association. His background in missions and church work extends throughout his life. He has served as pastor, an international missionary (Argentina), a director of missions and a professional coach. He is fluent in Spanish. His training includes church planting, mediation, cross-cultural ministry, and denominational missions administration.

His background in church work has prepared Tim in a unique way to understand the many challenges of church planters and pastors. His strong listening skills and passion for the Lord's work combine to support church leaders as they discover clarity and focus and power to change through the coaching experience.

He has been coaching since January 2009, and enjoys a broad network of relationships with church leaders throughout the state of Texas. Tim generally coaches by telephone. Person to person coaching can be arranged under special circumstances.

Tim has been married to Cindy Randolph for 26 years. Their three children, Carissa, Joel, and Andrea are all serving the Lord as they pursue their graduate and undergraduate studies. Tim loves to cycle and participates in various triathlons around Texas each year.
